Ms. Kimberly J. Scott currently holds an administrative role at Kaiser Permanente. Her passion for oral health stems from her keen awareness of the health concerns if oral health is not addressed. She recently produced a health show titled, "Things We Take for Granted: A Brief of Oral Health." Additionally, Ms. Scott is widening the breath and dept of her interest in increasing awareness of sexually transmitted infections that are contracted through the oral cavity, that might lead to oropharyngeal cancer from HPV and the impact of vaccination.
