THE TOBACCO INDUSTRY PROFITS

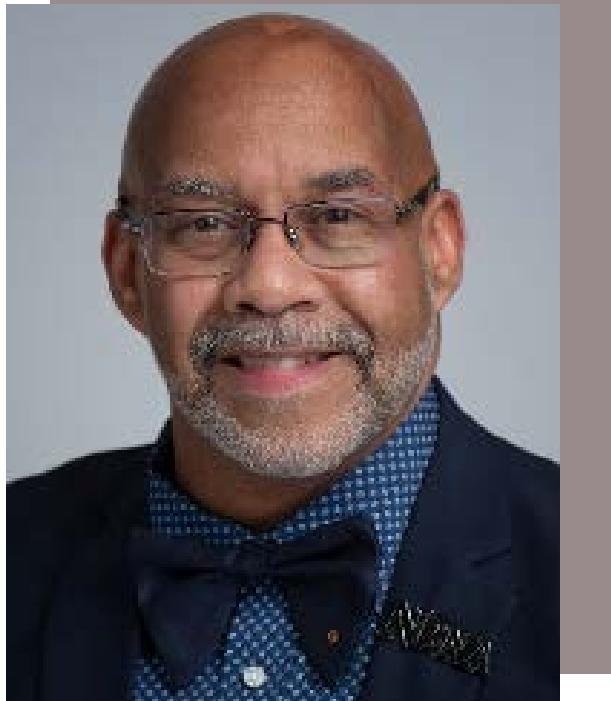

WHILE
45,000
BLACK LIVES
ARE LOST
EVERY YEAR

FOR DECADES, THE TOBACCO INDUSTRY HAS PREYED ON BLACK COMMUNITIES AND KIDS
WITH MARKETING FOR MENTHOL CIGARETTES.

WE ARE PROUD TO PARTNER WITH THE NATIONAL BLACK NURSES ASSOCIATION.
TO ELIMINATE MENTHOL CIGARETTES AND ALL FLAVORED TOBACCO PRODUCTS FOR GOOD.

DOING SO WILL PROTECT KIDS, ADVANCE HEALTH EQUITY, AND SAVE LIVES.

Welcome and Greetings from NBNA President Dr. Sheldon D. Fields

The first thing about our 52nd annual Institute and Conference that you should all be keenly aware of is that instead of traveling to Hollywood, Florida as previously planned you all are arriving in the Golden City of San Francisco. This city by the bay last hosted an NBNA conference some 20 years ago and I am honored on behalf of the officers, board of directors, and office staff of NBNA to be able to say welcome back. When it was clear to us that we would have to pivot and find a new city to host our conference this year San Francisco opened its arms. More importantly the NBNA chapters and its members in the Bay Area Black Nurses Association, Capitol City Black Nurses Association, and Stanford Medicine National Black Nurses Association jumped in to help us and we are eternally grateful.

The conference theme this year is "Advancing Health Care Across the Lifespan:

Through Re-Imagining Nursing and Human Caring" and was intentionally chosen to focus on the full scope of work in advancing health care that NBNA is called to do. Doing this work through re-imagining what we do as nurses allows us to continue to innovate within the profession. Grounding this in human caring reminds us of the need to be empathetic and compassionate while we do this work. This theme garnered the submission of a record high number of abstracts this year resulting in the program that you all will participate in this week.

The conference agenda this year includes our longstanding institutes and workshops in addition to a screening of the documentary from Shift Films – Everybody's Work: Healing What Hurts Us All, that prominently features many NBNA members. The new Academy of Diversity Leaders in Nursing will induct its inaugural class of Fellows and the presidential awards ceremony this year will not only honor lifetime, and trail blazer recipients but will feature for the first time the NBNA Founders Spirit Award. The presidential gala will also feature "The 1971 Project" NBNA's first major capital fundraising campaign which is critical to securing funds needed to continue and advance the work of NBNA. Finally, staying ever true to our mission, NBNA will continue to support educational advancement by awarding scholarships worth over $500,000 thousand dollars to assist nursing students at all levels in achieving their educational goals.

I want to thank Dr. Michelle Y. Williams, the national conference committee chair and Kim Scott the local conference chair for all their hard work and due diligence in planning this year's conference. Thank you as well to all the volunteers, sponsors, conference participants, speakers, NBNA members, family and friends and our national NBNA staff for making the 52nd annual Institute and Conference a success. I personally invite you to take in all that the conference has to offer this year, have fun, network, recharge, and fellowship with each other until we meet again next year.

GREETINGS FROM SAN FRANCISCO CONFERENCE CHAIR

Dr. Michelle Y. Williams,
Ph.D., R.N., F.A.A.N.

NBNA Members, Colleagues, Family, Friends, and Supporters,

With deep gratitude and appreciation, I extend a warm welcome to the 52nd Annual National Black Nurses Association (NBNA) Institute and Conference in San Francisco, California! This year's theme, "Advancing Health Care Across the Lifespan: Through Re-Imagining Nursing and Human Caring," underscores our commitment to enhancing patient care and nursing practice while addressing health disparities and fostering environments where human caring flourishes—for patients, families, caregivers, nurses, and providers alike. It is my honor to serve as the Conference Chair, and I am thankful to our 14th President, Dr. Sheldon Fields, Ph.D., R.N., F.A.A.N., for entrusting me with and appointing me to this role.

I also extend my appreciation to our National Headquarters Team, particularly Ms. Keaonia Jamison-Shaw, under the guidance of Ms. Tonya Jackson, M.S.N., R.N., Executive Director. Special thanks to our conference co-chair, Dr. Eric Williams, Ph.D., R.N., F.A.A.N., and host chapter chair, Ms. Kim Scott, President of the Bay Area Black Nurses Association, and Ms. Sheree Criner, M.S., R.N., President of the Capitol City Black Nurses Association, for their collaboration in bringing this conference to fruition.

As co-founder and current president of the Stanford Medicine Black Nurses Association (SMBNA) Chapter of NBNA (est. 2021), I am immensely proud of our chapter's growth since its inception. I extend heartfelt thanks to Dr. Dale Beatty, D.N.P., R.N., F.A.A.N., Senior Vice President and Chief Nurse Executive at Stanford Health Care, and Mr. David Entwistle, President and Chief Executive Officer, for their unwavering support and diamond plus sponsorship, enabling over 75 Stanford Health Care nurses and staff to attend and benefit from this year's NBNA conference.

This year's conference promises to be exceptional, featuring innovative presentation formats for podium, poster, and virtual sessions through the WHOVA application. As NBNA evolves to meet contemporary healthcare challenges, we reaffirm our commitment to our founding mission, vision, and values. Together, we envision a future where NBNA continues to make a significant and sustained impact.

I invite you to enjoy San Francisco, my hometown, renowned for its diversity, culture, culinary delights, art, history, weather, and breathtaking coastlines. Make the most of your time here and savor the vibrant spirit of this remarkable city!

With sincere gratitude and appreciation,

Michelle Y. Williams, Ph.D., R.N., F.A.A.N.

NBNA, CONFERENCE CHAIR, 52ND ANNUAL INSTITUTE AND CONFERENCE

52nd Annual Institute & Conference

Greetings National Black Nurses Members, Friends, and Guests,

I am pleased to welcome you to the 52nd Annual Institute to the 52nd Conference of the National Black Nurses Association. Our conference will take place in the vibrant city of San Francisco, California, also known as "The Golden City." This year's theme is "Advancing Health Care Across the Lifespan: Through Re-Imagining Nursing and Human Caring," which aligns with the profound legacy of our esteemed founders.

I strongly encourage you to take full advantage of this opportunity to connect with fellow members, sponsors, and exhibitors. Together, we will embark on a journey of re-imagining health care. The sessions and workshops prepared for this conference will equip you with valuable knowledge, empowering you to make a lasting impact in nursing. It's important to remember that nursing is not just a career; it is a way of life.

I express my heartfelt gratitude to the remarkable individuals who have made this conference possible. Their unwavering dedication and commitment are truly awe-inspiring. Special thanks to Keaonia Shaw Jamison, Conference, and Special Events Manager, for her tireless efforts and approach to creating an exceptional experience for all attendees. I am also deeply grateful to Estella Lazenby, Jeffrey Hunter, Tylasia McCollough, Tatum Williams, and Faith Janecke for their invaluable contributions to our organization.

I extend my appreciation to Dr. Michelle Williams, Conference Chair, and Dr. Eric Williams, Conference Co-Chair, for their visionary leadership and unwavering commitment to making this conference a resounding success.

A special thank you goes to our host chapters and their incredible leaders, Kim Scott and Shiree Criner, for their dedication, energy, and determination in ensuring a smooth transition from Florida to San Francisco.

I also express my deepest gratitude for the continued support and partnership of all our sponsors, corporate roundtable members, exhibitors, speakers, and abstract and poster presenters. Your contributions play a vital role in advancing nursing and improving the health of our communities.

Last but not least, I commend Dr. Shelton D. Fields, the President of the National Black Nurses Association, for his outstanding leadership. Dr. Fields, commitment to excellence and the mantra, "Failure is not an Option," have propelled this conference to new heights and surpassed all expectations. The special touches you have incorporated into this event will forever be etched in the fabric of our esteemed organization.

Tonya Jackson
EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, NATIONAL BLACK NURSES ASSOCIATION, INC.

Dear Conference Participants, Members, Colleagues, Allies, Friends, and Family,

It is with great excitement we welcome you to the 52nd annual Conference and Institute taking place in my hometown. It has been over two decades since The National Black Nurses Association, (NBNA) has been in the Bay Area. I welcome you to the Golden State of California, San Francisco Bay specifically. To utilize our Bay vernacular; we are Hella happy to host once again.

This year's theme is Advancing Health Care Across the Lifespan: Through Re-Imagining Nursing and Human Caring. Currently the state of our social and political environment is in dire need of re-imagining. We look forward to this exciting occasion which promises to be a hub of innovation, collaboration, and inspiration. Our program is packed with thought-provoking keynote speakers, insightful panel discussions, and interactive workshops led by experts in the field. The exchange of ideas and experiences is a cornerstone of our community, and we are excited to see what collaborations and innovations will emerge from this gathering.

A special thank you to President, Dr. Sheldon Fields for entrusting me and the local conference committee to work in tandem with the National office to lead the charge of producing this conference. I am grateful to our sister chapters, Stanford Health Care Black Nurses, and Capitol City Black Nurses. This is the first time three local chapters have worked collectively in curating this conference. We are also grateful to our sponsors, speakers, exhibitors, and volunteers whose contributions have been invaluable in making this event possible.

Please take full advantage of the tourist attractions, shopping, and rich historical and cultural uniqueness of San Francisco and surrounding cities. We wish you a productive and enjoyable conference experience.

BEST REGARDS,

Kimberly J. Scott, MSN, MBA, RN

KIMBERLY J. SCOTT, MSN, MBA, RN
LEAD LOCAL CONFERENCE CHAIR
PRESIDENT-BAY AREA BLACK NURSES ASSOCIATION

Dear Conference Attendees,

Welcome to the beautiful golden state of California and the 52nd Annual National Black Nurses Association Institute and Conference! On behalf of the Capitol City Black Nurses Association of Sacramento, it is my distinct pleasure to extend our warmest greetings to each of you.

As we gather in the historic Bay Area city of San Francisco, we celebrate not only the rich history and contributions of Black nurses but also the incredible future that lies ahead for our profession. This conference provides an invaluable opportunity for us to share knowledge, inspire one another, and collaborate on innovative solutions to the challenges we face in healthcare today.

Over the coming days, you will engage with thought-provoking sessions, workshops, and networking events designed to enhance your skills and broaden your professional horizons. Our aim is to empower each of you to return to your communities with renewed passion and purpose, ready to make a difference in the lives of those you serve.

We are honored to co-host this prestigious event with Bay Arean BNA and Stanford BNA, and are committed to ensuring your experience is both enriching and enjoyable. Take the time to explore all that San Francisco has to offer, from its rich cultural heritage to its beautiful views, museums, and diverse culinary scene.

Thank you for your dedication to the nursing profession and for your unwavering commitment to excellence. Together, we will continue to work on "Advancing Health Care Across the Lifespan: Through Re-Imagining Nursing and Human Caring."

Enjoy the conference, and welcome once again to California!

Warm regards,

Greetings to the National Black Nurses Association (NBNA)

July 25, 2025

Dear Honored Nurses,

Congratulations to the National Black Nurses Association (NBNA) on the occasion of your 52nd Annual Institute and Conference in the San Francisco Bay Area.

I applaud your outstanding commitment to enhancing the quality of life for African Americans and communities of color in the United States. Your pledge to excellence in education for nurses and allied health professionals is commendable.

Your leadership has, yet again, been particularly impactful for so many. In 2023, a record number of 57 scholarships were given totaling over $257,000.

On behalf of Alameda County, I thank you for your efforts to provide invaluable support, resources, and investments in the great potential of our communities.

Best wishes for continued success!

July 23, 2024

Greetings!

On behalf of Alameda County, I am delighted to extend a warm welcome to all participants of the 52nd Annual National Black Nurses Association Institute and Conference. This conference represents a significant moment in our ongoing efforts to enhance healthcare and nursing practices, guided by principles of equity, compassion, and innovation. As you gather to exchange knowledge, explore best practices, and foster new collaborations, I am confident that your discussions will lead to transformative advancements in healthcare delivery.

The rich history of the National Black Nurses Association, steeped in advocacy and leadership, continues to inspire generations of healthcare professionals. From its inception in 1971 to the present day, your organization has remained at the forefront of promoting health equity and addressing the unique needs of diverse communities across the nation. I commend your dedication to excellence in nursing education, research, and patient care. Your commitment to inclusivity and cultural competence sets a commendable standard for the entire healthcare industry.

Once again, welcome. May your participation in this conference be both productive and inspiring as we collectively strive towards a healthier and more equitable future for all.

Sincerely,

Congratulations to the National Black Nurses Association (NBNA) on your 52nd Annual Institute and Conference - "Advancing Health Care Across the Lifespan: Through Re-Imagining Nursing and Human Caring". It's exciting that you're hosting this year's conference, July 23-28, 2024, in the San Francisco Bay Area, a fellow-Northern California city.

We welcome you as you continue enhancing the quality of life for African Americans and communities of color in the United States. Your commitment to serving as the professional voice for over 308,000 African American nurses and diverse populations, ensuring that everyone has equal access to opportunities for professional development, educational promotion, and health improvement is commendable.

As mayor for the city of Tracy, California, (first African American Mayor for Tracy) I thank you for your efforts to provide resources, training, and opportunities through your organization and through the conference. Equipping our front-line medical nurses will truly benefit the health of our communities and inspire future generations in this profession.

Wishing you much success!

Dr. Nancy D. Young

National Black Nurses Association (NBNA)
8630 Fenton Street, Suite 910
Silver Spring, MD 20910

Dear Members of the National Black Nurses Association,

Welcome to your 52nd Annual Institute and Conference! As the elected Chair of the California Democratic Congressional Delegation (CDCD), I am glad to see you ended up gathering in our great state.

As our country continues to grapple with racial discrimination and disparities in our healthcare system, the NBNA's commitment to health equity is so important. The Association has been instrumental in advancing policies to address the nursing shortage and increase access to the highest quality of health care for communities of color. I stand with you in these efforts, as does the CDCD.

I am confident that this conference will provide helpful networking opportunities and brainstorming sessions that will help uplift nurses, enhance our healthcare system, and improve patient care. I look forward to continuing to work together, and I wish you all the best at your conference.

Sincerely,

July 20, 2024 Dr. Sheldon D. Fields, PhD, RN, FAAN President Dr. Michelle Y. Williams, PhD, RN, FAAN Chair, National Conference Committee National Black Nurses Association Dear Honored Nurses, The California African-American Freedom Trail is excited to launch its tenth anniversary with the National Black Nurses Association convention which has courageously moved from Florida to protest a wave of anti-Black policies that directly impact patient outcomes. Some of the most important figures in California's Black history are health care pioneers and we are offering four tours during the week to highlight their seminal achievements which have opened doors across the Diaspora.

<https://blackmoney.com/product/black-health-care-pioneers-in-california-history-national-black-nurses-association-special-tour/>

In addition, the Journal of Black Innovation National Black Business Month(R) is celebrating the dramatic growth in your ranks in the past four years, 160,000 new nurses, 30,000 in New York State alone. Accordingly, I'm hosting Dr. Fields on Aug. 7 during a five week co- hosting stint with Angela Yee on 45 radio stations across the nation to discuss the impact of Black nurses.

teamwealthwednesdays.com We are also addressing health equity on Aug. 7 with our focus on the 450 Black Serving Hospitals and their fiscal health, particularly Martin Luther King Jr. Hospital in Los Angeles. Earlier this year, our advocacy helped the New York legislature appropriate $300 million to maintain services at University Hospital in Brooklyn. The health of African-Americans is on the ballot in November 2024 and advise all 120 chapters to be as active as possible. VOTEBLACKBUSINESS: State of Black Business, 21 ed. drills down on those health care issues that we explored during our Innovation&Equity23 conference in January. Please register at blackbusinessmonth.com Welcome to San Francisco, the City that Created Cool. Your support of our tours and event moves us towards the opening of The Sargent: Sargent Claude Johnson National Museum of African-American Art at Fisherman's Wharf which will have a heavy emphasis on art and healing. We expect to see you back in San Francisco soon. And did I mention that the literal meaning of California is a land where Black women rule?

2024 Lifetime Achievement Award

Presented to an individual whose summative lifetime workplaces them in a position of high achievement in service to NBNA directly and or the NBNA mission and vision.

Virginia Allen

Growing up, Virginia Allen admired her maternal aunt Edna Sutton Ballard and loved to see her nurse's uniform. It was starched white with shiny white shoes, Allen recalled. Ballard spoke of her patients and coworkers at Staten Island's Sea View Hospital on her family visits to Detroit in the 1930s and 1940s. Those stories planted the seeds for Allen who would later become a nurse. Both women would go on to make history as part of a group of 300 nurses who later became known as the "Black Angels." These days on so very many occasions Allen, who served as a volunteer at the Schomburg Center for Research in Black Culture since 2010, looks back at her 10-years at Sea View and shares a glimpse of her life at the hospital.

A 2024 exhibition at the Staten Island Museum accompanied by a book by Maria Smilios' entitled, The Black Angels: The Untold Story of the Nurses Who Helped Cure Tuberculosis has now shed light on and sparked renewed interest in the long unknown and underappreciated selfless service provided by the Black nurses working at Seaview Hospital throughout the peak of the tuberculosis epidemic. As one of the last living Black Angels, Allen has received much acclaim for her years of service at that critical time in the history of healthcare in the United States.

White nurses walked off the job in 1929, saying that caring for tuberculosis patients was too dangerous. According to Allen, the shortage created job opportunities for Black women. People were recruited from the South, the Caribbean, and Asian countries to fill the void. Some of the staff were also graduates of the Harlem Hospital School of Nursing and the Lincoln School for Nurses. "Even though the Department of Hospitals had over 20 facilities in New York, only four of them hired Black nurses at that time," Allen recalled. "They had to work in other occupations. There were no jobs available to them because of institutional segregation."

Allen began working at Sea View in 1947 at age 16. She convinced her parents to let her leave Detroit after graduating from high school, to live with her aunt and work as a nurse's aide. Allen did not realize the historic nature of her job at the time. "My age did not allow me to think critically about the situation at hand," she said. "I treated the patients the way I was taught to treat them. I was young myself, so I related to them."

Virginia reminisced that the nurses "gave so much of themselves to the cure of tuberculosis". "Some of them, actually, risking their lives." Virginia and fellow nurses wore protective gear such as face masks, gowns over their uniforms, and gloves as part of the safety protocol of caring for the patients who contracted the highly contagious airborne disease.

"I was fortunate to have so many professional Black nurses teaching in the education department and teaching isolation techniques, which saved my life," she added "If I did not maintain isolation techniques, I could have easily contracted tuberculosis." Allen never did.

Patients at Sea View were from all races, backgrounds and ages. "It wasn't until many years later that the term 'Black Angels' was assigned to the nurses," Allen said. The patients called the nurses their "angels." The nurses who cared for them were predominantly Black and worked tirelessly across Sea View Hospital's eight pavilions.

Her co-workers became part of her extended family, Allen said. On days off, they attended Brooklyn Dodgers games and went to dances at The Savoy and Renaissance Ballrooms in Harlem. The nurses, who were from different states, formed clubs to raise money for educational opportunities for their communities back home.

Virginia enrolled in nursing school at Central School for Practical Nurses in 1954 through a work-study program and graduated with honors in 1956. She left Seaview Hospital in 1957 and returned to school to take classes and pursue a career in labor relations. She advocated for members in Local 144, Division of 1199 Health and Human Service Employees Union, the Nursing Homes and 1199 Healthcare Workers of the Service Employees International Union (SEIU). Allen returned to patient care in the 1980s, working at Staten Island University Hospital until 1995. Then she moved into a private doctor's OB/GYN practice and retired in 2005. In 2010, Allen joined The Schomburg Center for Research in Black Culture in Harlem as a volunteer.

Virginia is a founding member and continues to be active with the National Council of Negro Women, Inc. - Staten Island Section since 1968. She also serves on the boards of organizations including, Cultural Crossroads in Fort Greene, the Staten Island Ballet, the Frederick Douglass Memorial Park Inc., the Art Lab at the Snug Harbor Cultural Center and Botanical Garden, Staten Island OutLOUD, and the College of Staten Island Auxiliary Board providing grants for education and vocation. She is also a member of Lambda Kappa Mu Sorority, Inc. - Lambda Chapter Staten Island, NY and the Literary Society of New York.

Over the years, Virginia has received accolades from a diverse body of stakeholders including Councilwoman Debbie Rose, the New York State Senate and Assembly, the Borough President, the Stapleton UAME Church and St. Phillips Baptist Church. She has been honored with the Lambda Kappa Mu Sorority Inc.'s Distinguished Service Key and the Staten Island Advance's Women of Achievement Award, Class of 2005. More recently, Virginia was honored with the William A. Morris Humanitarian Award and the Hope Community Staten Island Service Award. In 2021 Virginia received an Honorary Degree of Doctor of Humane Letters from the College of Staten Island.

Also, in 2021 she received the New York State Nurses Association Recognition for Black History Month, as well as a Health Equity and Inclusion Recognition from Staten Island Women Who March. Virginia worked on many projects with the late Jane Lyons. Ms. Lyons was the former Executive Director of Sea View Hospital and Home from 1982 - 1997. Ms. Allen was also involved with saving the neglected and rare Delft Terra Cotta Murals which are now on display in the lobby of the Robitzek Building at Staten Island University Hospital. She received recognition as a Black Angel at the unveiling of the Sea View Delft Terra Cotta Murals in January 2021. In April 2024, Virginia was once again recognized by the New York City Health and Hospitals Association in a ceremony held at Harlem Hospital, where she received the Black Angels Special Recognition Award.

Virginia's very accomplished daughter succumbed to heart disease in 2001. Virginia has two amazing grandsons, a beautiful great-granddaughter and two phenomenal great-grandsons. She continues to be an avid reader and enjoys music, art, the theater and traveling.

Virginia Allen has a longstanding legacy grounded in selflessness, she recently shared that, "one of my main beliefs is that this world is all we have, and it is our duty to care for one another with love."

2024 Lifetime Achievement Award

Freida Hopkins Outlaw

Freida Hopkins Outlaw received her Baccalaureate in Nursing from Berea College, Masters in Psychiatric Nursing from Boston College and a Ph.D. from The Catholic University of America and completed her postdoctoral study in Psychosocial Oncology at the University of Pennsylvania. She has years of experience as a clinician, researcher, educator, and policy maker in public mental health. She is currently a professor, the department of Family and Community Medicine, Meharry Medical College. Previously, Dr. Outlaw was named the Academic Program Consultant to the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) Minority Fellowship Program (MFP) at the American Nurses Association, after having served on the MFP National Advisory Committee for more than a decade.

She was an Adjunct Professor, Department of Human and Organizational Development, Peabody College, Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tennessee and an Associate Professor at Meharry Medical College in 2011-2013 where she served as Director of the Meharry Youth Health and Wellness Center, a health care delivery system for adolescents with a special focus on LGBTQ youth. Prior to this appointment, for eight years she was the Assistant Commissioner, Division of Special Populations, Tennessee Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services. In this role she focused on developing policies and initiatives that improved treatment for children with mental health and substance abuse issues. In addition, she provided leadership in securing thirty-two million dollars of federal funding to support transforming the state's mental health system for children and their families. And was part of the leadership that was instrumental in passing legislation to create the Children's Mental Health Council that was required to develop a plan for a statewide system of care implementation, which continues today.

Dr. Outlaw is a Fellow in the American Academy of Nursing and is an active member of the Psychiatric Mental Health and Substance Abuse Expert Panel.

She has published in the areas of depression; the impact of racism and stress on the health of African Americans; management of aggression in the emergency room, seclusion and restraint and psychiatric patients, religion, spirituality and the meaning of prayer for people with cancer; children's mental health, substance use in the elderly, trauma informed care and the mental health needs of LGBTQI youth of color, Quality of life and African American women who are family caregivers, Depression Among Older African American women and Toxic stress informed by racism, transgenerational stress, and disadvantage. She was an editor of the Policy and Politics in Nursing and Health Care, 7th Edition. She also has a number of book chapters focused on mentoring diverse populations, mental health parity and trauma informed care. Dr. Outlaw has received recognition for her excellence in clinical practice and for her work to improve the mental health of children and their families, with a specialty around early Intervention, prevention and culturally appropriate interventions for minoritized children. She has received recognition for her practice from several organizations including NAMI of Middle Tennessee.

2024 Lifetime Achievement Award

Rev., Dr. Deidre Walton, JD, MSN, RN, PhD(c)

Deidre Walton, a distinguished leader in healthcare, is the Past President of the National Black Nurses Association, Inc. (NBNA). Recognized as a nominee for the one hundred most influential people in healthcare by Modern Healthcare in 2014, she brings a wealth of expertise in health policy, human rights, and healthcare reform. With extensive experience spanning over thirty years in Managed Care, encompassing nursing practice, education, and administration, she is renowned for her advocacy in patient care and international leadership in healthcare. Deidre holds a BSN, MSN, and JD, and is a graduate of the US Army Command and General Staff College. She has been invited to prestigious forums such as the White House Conference on Aging and has been a guest lecturer at numerous universities on diversity.

Her commitment to diversity and inclusion led to the establishment of the Diversity and Inclusion Institute during her tenure at NBNA. Deidre's contributions extend beyond organizational boundaries; she has served on boards and committees aimed at promoting diversity in nursing, including the Nursing on Boards Coalition and the National Coalition of Ethnic Minority Nurses Association, and the Expert Advisory Board for the UCLA Resource Center for Minority Aging Research. She is a recipient of local, state, and national community service awards in California, Ohio, and Arizona and received the Veterans Braintrust Award from US Representatives from NY, GA, and FL. Her dedication to community service has been recognized through various awards, including the 2018 Distinguished Nurse of the Year by the Arizona Chapter of the March of Dimes. She was awarded the Distinguished "Villager" award from The Village P.r.o.j.e.c.t.s., an Afram Global Organization. Deidre's leadership and advocacy have left an indelible mark on the healthcare landscape, earning her accolades and distinctions such as induction into the Sigma Theta Tau International Honor Society in Nursing, the Institute of Excellence, and the Chi Eta Phi Nursing Sorority. As a retired Lieutenant Colonel in the US Army and an Itinerant Elder in the AME Church, Deidre continues to inspire and empower others through her exemplary service and unwavering commitment to advancing healthcare and fostering inclusivity.

2024 Lifetime Achievement Award

Curlene Jennings Bennett: Black Angel and Beyond

Curlene was an early trailblazer and excelled in all her educational endeavors. She graduated from the prestigious Bellevue School of Nursing in New York City in the fall of 1957 as a registered nurse. Young staff nurses were expected to work at Bellevue but, as a resident of Staten Island, Curlene's request to instead work at Sea View Hospital was granted. At the time it was one of the country's largest TB sanatoriums and it was where Curlene administered the medication that led to the reduction of TB cases; P.A.S, INH and streptomycin. Caring for wards of up to 30 patients, Curlene's training at Bellevue equipped her to provide skilled nursing care and propelled her desire to empower patients as a public health nurse. After one year working with the diverse population of vulnerable TB patients, in 1958 Curlene was hired by the city of New York as a public health nurse.

She worked for two years on the Lower East Side where she made wellness checks on patients mostly living in crowded tenement apartments, walking up dimly lit stairwells and appearing as a beacon of light in her navy blue uniform. Curlene later brought that expertise to Central Harlem where, in addition to wellness checks, as was Curlene's inclination she also educated her patients about their medications and cared for their well-being. While working for the Department of Health, Curlene was also a school nurse and worked in well-baby clinics. In 1962, as the Civil Rights Movement gained momentum and African nations were declaring their independence, Curlene packed up and moved, by herself, to Liberia, West Africa, when African friends insisted that her skills were much needed in that country. She was later joined by the American Merchant Marine she would marry the next year. While he worked for the Liberian president as a business manager, Curlene was asked by the administration to use her nursing expertise and public health knowledge to set up well-baby clinics in several villages. While also teaching nutrition to patients, Curlene maintained a large vegetable garden to share with her neighbors and reinforce the connection of wellness to diet. Her work was lauded in Monrovia and later in rural Nimba County where she worked at Lamco Hospital with renown physician Dr. Varsi Sirleaf.

Upon Curlene's return to New York City from Liberia, with three toddlers in tow, she was immediately sought after as a private duty nurse based on her reputation for a wholistic approach to healing. When she moved her family to her childhood home on Staten Island, Curlene took on the role as head nurse at what was Beekman Downtown Hospital in NYC. After more than 15 years in the hospital setting, Curlene's health care service continued to be varied and highly respected. One of many milestones includes helping establish head injury units in the New York area while working in Brooklyn at the Susan Smith McKinney Nursing and Rehab Center. Curlene ended her almost 50-year nursing career in the facility where it all began, the place where she would officially join the ranks of the "Black Angels," but this time Sea View is a rehabilitation and long-term care facility. Curlene retired as the facility's assistant director of nursing.

"I am most appreciative to Dr. Sheldon Fields and NBNA for bestowing such an auspicious honor upon me. 'It's to God Be the Glory!' May you and NBNA continue to prosper and be in good health so you can continue to care out the mission of NBNA.

Blessings, Peace & Love

Rev. Dr. Collier-Dixon"

CCBNA is honored to co-host the 52nd NBNA Annual Institute & Conference

We are proud to be here, and want to share our story as members of NBNA. Our chapter was established in 2018 by a small group of Black graduate students on the UC Davis campus, in Sacramento, California.

Mentorship built CCBNA and mentorship guides our work. Through barbershop men's health events, student success programs, scholarships, health fairs, screening events and wellness programs, we have helped to address health disparities and empower and educate people in our region and beyond.

Our early years have been devoted to mentorship, community partnerships, service, member professional development, and chapter growth. The passion and hard work of our early members paid off; in 2021, CCBNA was recognized nationally for having the most number of male nurses and Lifetime NBNA Members and in 2023, we reached our goal of 100 members.

We're proud of the impact we've had on the communities we serve. In the words of Mary Church Terrell, we will always be "lifting as we climb" as each of us stands on the shoulders of the ancestors and nurse leaders who came before us. We are grateful because we would not be here without the guidance and support we receive as members of NBNA.

Come and get to know us this week!

NBNA Trailblazer Award

Carl Kirton

Carl Kirton is the Editor-in-Chief of the American Journal of Nursing the profession's leading voice of nursing since the 1900s. He earned a BSN from Lehman College in 1986 and a MA in Nursing Education from New York University (NYU) in 1992 and post-masters certificate as an adult nurse practitioner from NYU in 1996. He received a doctorate in nursing practice from Case Western University in 2008 and an Masters in Business Administration from St. Peter's University in 2012. Dr. Kirton is currently pursuing a doctor of philosophy degree in Nursing at Seton Hall University. Dr. Kirton has diverse nursing experience including: critical care nursing, HIV-AIDS nursing, ambulatory care and nursing leadership. He has held several nursing clinical and operational leadership roles including: nurse educator, advanced practice nurse, nurse manager, and director of nursing.

Dr. Kirton has more than 15 years of experience as a chief nurse executive in academic medical and safety net facilities. He is an outstanding nurse educator with adjunct faculty appointments at New York University, Rutgers University, Temple University and Philips School of Nursing.

His scholarship includes significant contribution to the science of HIV-AIDS and other topics in presentations, research, published articles, books, book chapters, online materials, and timely editorials in nursing and healthcare. His contributions include serving as associate editors of the Journal of the Association of Nurses in AIDS Care and the Journal of LGBTQ Health and Population Health.

Dr. Kirton integrates his work in nursing leadership, practice, education, and policy in service to the profession as evidenced by ongoing service as President, Board of Advisors, NYU Rory Meyers College of Nursing in addition to serving on multiple editorial boards for peer-reviewed journals, as well as Past President and other Board of Director positions on multiple organizational boards. His contributions have been distinguished with multiple recognitions and awards including the Distinguished Alumni, Estelle Osborne, and Joseph and Violet Pless Faculty Research in HIV Nursing awards from New York University and honored by the New Jersey Association of Nurses in AIDS Care.

Dr. Kirton has a strong passion for educating and mentoring nurses to be leaders and embracing initiatives to improve equity in healthcare. He is known to mentor leaders in their professional development and achievement of their career goals. In his spare time, he is a voracious reader of fiction and non-fiction works, a patron of the theatre and spends his leisure time in perfecting his interest in garment construction and tailoring.

1 "Do not judge, or you too will be judged. 2 For in the same way you judge others, you will be judged, and with the measure you use, it will be measured to you. 3 "Why do you look at the speck of sawdust in your brother's eye and pay no attention to the plank in your own eye? 4 How can you say to your brother, 'Let me take the speck out of your eye,' when all the time there is a plank in your own eye? 5 You hypocrite, first take the plank out of your own eye, and then you will see clearly to remove the speck from your brother's eye.

SCA Heath

Booth #306

Today, SCA Health has grown to 11,000 teammates who care for 1 million patients each year and support physician specialists holistically in many aspects of patient care. Together, our teammates create value in specialty care by aligning physicians, health plans and health systems around a common goal: delivering on the quadruple aim of high-quality outcomes and a better experience for patients and providers, all at a lower total cost of care. As part of Optum, we participate in an integrated care delivery system that enables us to support our partners as they navigate a complex healthcare environment. Only SCA Health has a dynamic group of physician-driven, specialty care businesses that allows us to customize solutions, no matter the need or challenge: We connect patients to physicians in new and differentiated ways as part of Optum and with our new Specialty Management Solutions business. We have pioneered a physician-led, multi-site model of practice solutions that restores physician agency by aligning incentives to support growth and transition to value-based care. We lead the industry in value-based payment solutions through our Global 1 bundled payment convener, that provides easy predictable billing to patients. We help physicians address everything beyond surgical procedures, including anesthesia and ancillary service lines. The new SCA Health represents who we are today and where we are going—and the growing career opportunities for YOU.
