ABOUT Us

The National Black Nurses Association (NBNA) is a professional organization representing and advocating for Black nurses and nursing students in the United States.

Founded in 1971, NBNA is dedicated to improving the health and wellness of Black communities by promoting the professional and educational advancement of Black Nurses.

The organization aids its members through networking, career development, and continuing education. Additionally, advocating for policies that tackle health disparities, access to quality healthcare, and diversity in the nursing workforce.

With over 113 chapters nation wide, NBNA is committed to shaping the future of nursing and promoting equity in healthcare.

Message From our Executive Director, Tonya Jackson

Dear Corporate Partner,

Established in 2012, the NBNA Corporate Roundtable was created to unite businesses and organizations committed to advancing the mission and goals of the National Black Nurses Association, Inc. From its inception, the Roundtable has served as a vital platform for collaboration, innovation, and shared purpose, helping NBNA fulfill its priorities in education, advocacy, and leadership development.

Through your continued partnership, we have made a lasting impact on the nursing profession, empowering nurses, strengthening communities, and shaping the future of healthcare equity.

Corporate partners play a vital role in providing thought leadership to NBNA. Your insights and expertise help guide our programmatic initiatives, ensuring we remain responsive to the evolving landscape of healthcare. You help us shape where we lean in, aligning our programs with the most pressing priorities facing nursing and the communities we serve.

In addition to advancing our mission, your partnership strengthens the NBNA brand and broadens our reach. Together, we elevate awareness of critical health issues, cultivate leadership across generations of Black nurses, and create platforms for innovation and professional growth. We are deeply grateful for the ways our corporate partners share their expertise and perspectives through NBNA-sponsored events, roundtables, and educational forums.

This year, NBNA is pleased to introduce three Thought Leadership Sessions exclusively for our Corporate Partners. Two of these sessions will be held virtually, and the third will take place in person during our Annual Black Nurses' Hill Day in Washington, D.C. These sessions are designed to foster direct engagement and dialogue between NBNA leadership and our corporate partners –allowing us to strategically align priorities, share emerging trends, and explore collaborative solutions to the challenges shaping the future of healthcare.

Message From our Executive Director, Tonya Jackson

This year, NBNA is pleased to introduce three Thought Leadership Sessions exclusively for our Corporate Partners. Two of these sessions will be held virtually, and the third will take place in person during our Annual Black Nurses' Hill Day in Washington, D.C. These sessions are designed to foster direct engagement and dialogue between NBNA leadership and our corporate partners –allowing us to strategically align priorities, share emerging trends, and explore collaborative solutions to the challenges shaping the future of healthcare.

During these sessions, we invite our partners to serve as trusted advisors, offering insights that inform NBNA's strategic direction, initiatives, and advocacy agenda. Your thought leadership and participation ensure that our efforts continue to reflect the realities of today's healthcare environment while anticipating the needs of tomorrow's workforce.

We look forward to your continued partnership and active participation in these upcoming sessions. Together, we will continue to build bridges between industry and nursing, advance health equity, and uplift the profession through collaboration, innovation, and shared purpose.

With appreciation and partnership,

Tonya Jackson, MSHA, BSN, RN

BEING A CORPORATE ROUNDTABLE PARTNER

The Corporate Roundtable, established in 2012, comprises business leaders dedicated to advancing the objectives of the National Black Nurses Association (NBNA). This Roundtable seeks to support NBNA in achieving its mission and priorities, thereby making a meaningful impact on nurses and the future of the nursing profession.

Corporate partners are instrumental in educating leaders on policy issues through legislative briefings and receive regular updates from the NBNA Health Policy Committee regarding developments on Capitol Hill and within the Administration.

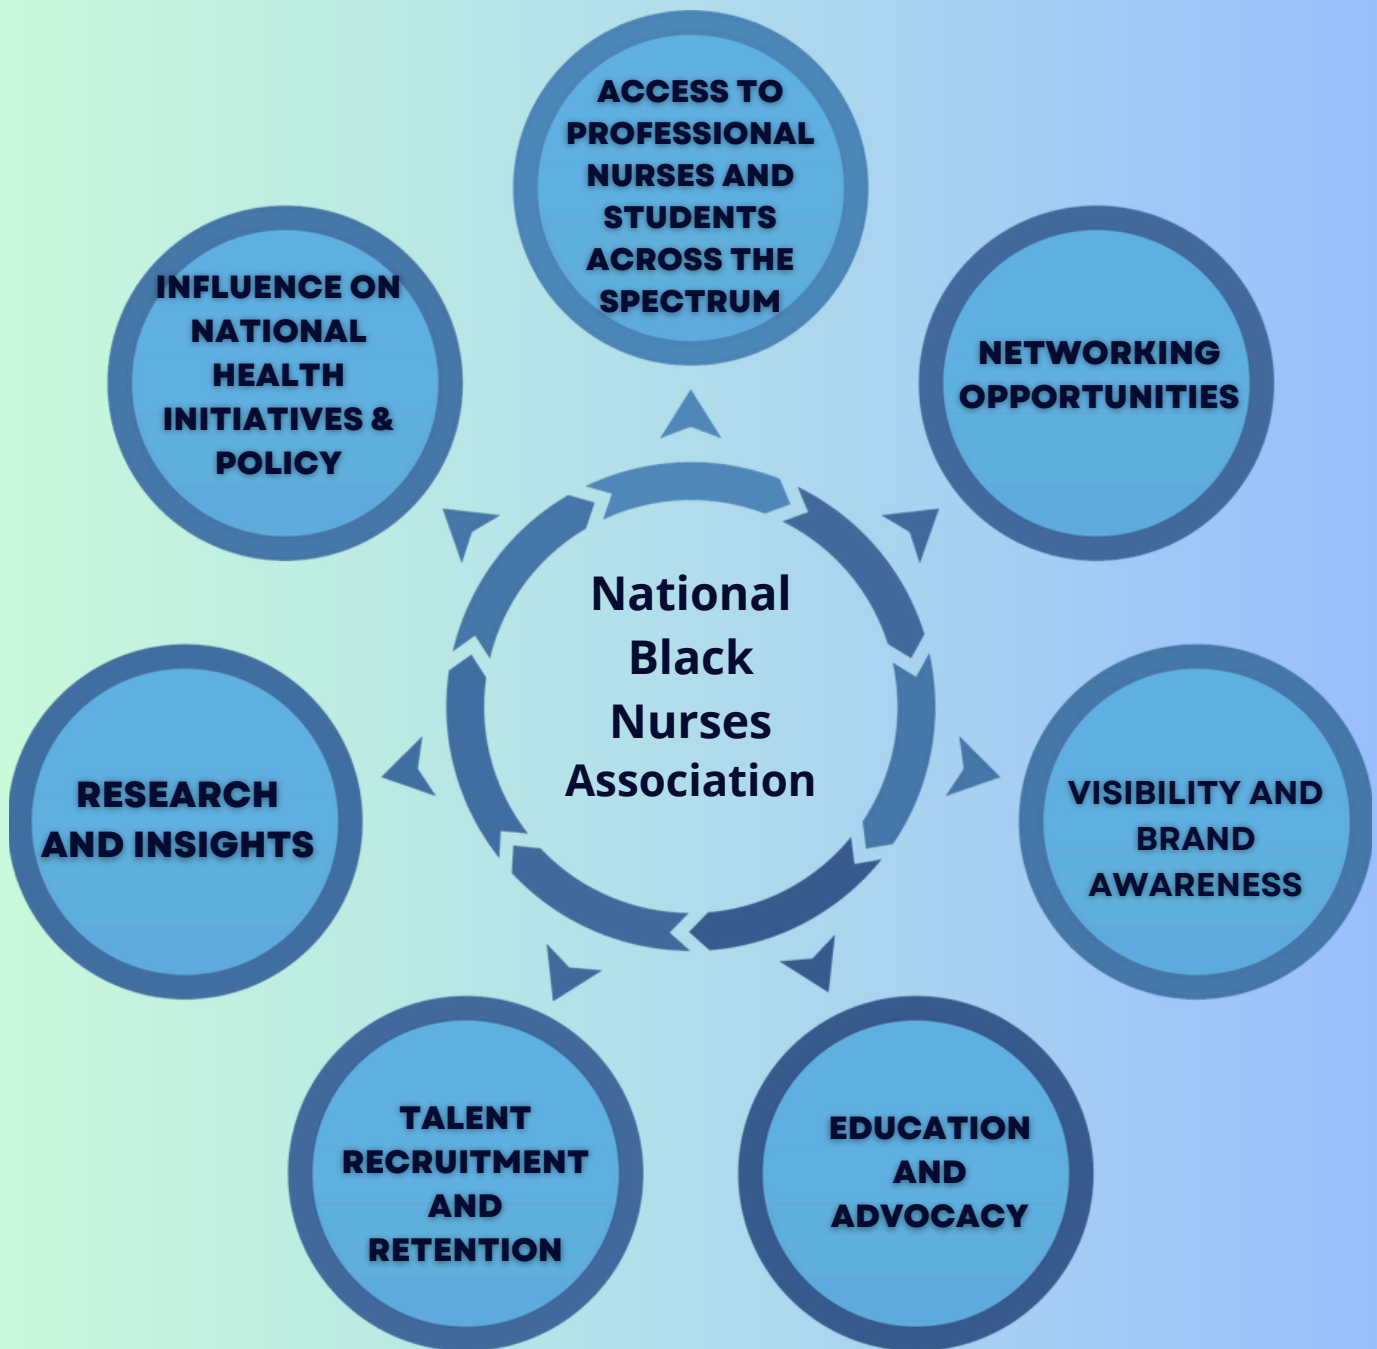

Moreover, these partners collaborate with NBNA to develop national health initiatives and to enhance awareness of nursing and healthcare. Members also have the opportunity to showcase their company's expertise at NBNA-sponsored meetings and educational programs.

WHY PARTNER WITH NBNA?

TERMS & CONDITIONS

Partnership Agreement- All partnership commitment must be finalized with a signed agreement. This agreement outlines the specific partnership level, benefits, payment terms, and mutual obligations of both the partner and the National Black Nurses Association, Inc.

Payment must be received 45 days before Annual Institute and Conference. Failure to pay by the due date may result in forfeiture of partnership benefits and/or cancellation of partnership.

If the partner cancels prior to June 5, 2025 a partial refund may be provided. Cancellations made within 60 days of event may not be eligible for a refund. All cancellations must be made in writing.

Partners must provide high-resolution logo files in approved formats for use in conference materials. NBNA reserves the right to approve or reject partners provided content, logos, or promotional materials. Any use of the event logo or NBNA by the partners must be pre-approved by NBNA.

NBNA will make every effort to deliver the agreed partnership benefits. However, specific placements, attendee numbers and engagement levels cannot be guaranteed and may vary based on circumstances. Adjustments may be made as necessary.

Partners are allowed to provide promotional materials as outlined in their partnership package. NBNA reserves the right to review and approve all materials for alignment with the Institute and Conference value and audience.

The partner agrees to hold the event organizer harmless from any liability, claims, or damages arising from partner activities, materials, or personnel. NBNA is not liable for any loss or damage to partner property.

Unless specified in the agreement, partnership does not grant exclusivity in any category, and other partners from the same industry may also participate.

Any changes to amendments to partnership terms must be mutually agreed upon in writing by both parties.
